

SIXTEEN LOSE LIVES IN LAKE COUNTY WATERS

Drownings This Season
Five Less Than Last Year.

The tragedy at Long Lake Labor day in which five lives were lost brings the total of drowning in Lake county this season up to 16, as compared with 21 fatalities last year. Of the 16 drowned only three were residents of the county: they were, Charles Watechowcz, Robert Kennedy, 12, and B. Gustafson, 25, all residents in the vicinity of Waukegan and the Michigan lake front.

Fourteen rescuers materially decreased the total deaths.

There was only one drowning in Channel lake, the first of the season, when two-year-old Dorothy English, Evanston, fell from a row boat. Long lake has claimed the lives of 6, Catherine 2, Druce 2, Crooked 1, and Zurich 1.

The Lake county drownings occurred as follows:

Dorothy English, 2, of Evanston, drowned in Channel lake on June 24.

Robert Kennedy, 12, of 129 North Sheridan road, Waukegan, drowned at the north beach on July 4.

John Degan, 22, of 1858 Humboldt boulevard, Chicago, drowned at Long Lake July 7.

Herman Loeffler, 21, of Chicago, drowned in Lake Catherine July 12.

Hazel Pierce, 16, of Chicago, drowned at Lake Catherine July 12.

Borr Gustafson, 25, of 814 McAllister avenue, Waukegan, was drowned in Druce lake, July 14.

Earl Sorenson, 18, of 2982 Avondale avenue, Chicago, was drowned in Crooked lake, July 14.

Louis Libedfarb, 17, of 1493 Fairfield avenue, Chicago, was drowned in Lake Zurich, August 11.

Joe Ziellinski, 21, of 5117 Wood street, Chicago, was drowned in Druce lake August 19.

Mrs. Hammond Gohl of Long Grove, Illinois, drowned herself in a cistern in the basement of her home early this year.

Charles Watechowcz, 44, of the Maywood hotel was drowned in a pond near Lake Michigan, August 24.

John Hoving, Everette Veldman, Harry Wezeman, Cornelious Gelderloos, and George Ottenhoff, all of Chicago, drowned in Long lake, Labor day.

Last year's drownings totaled 21 and set a record. In 1925 there were 20 drownings in the county while in 1927 there were only 12.

Two Houses, Nine Garages Built in Antioch Since January 1, 1929

Several cities in this state have enacted ordinances to the effect that anyone wishing to construct a building must secure a building permit before work on such can begin. An application blank must be filled out and the rate which is charged is determined by the value of the proposed building. The applicant must also give an affidavit that he owns the property upon which the building is to be constructed.

According to the Waukegan Department of Public Affairs, there were 21 new residential buildings

Brothers Reunited After 61 Years

After being separated for sixty-one years, two brothers, Henry Durr Ruble of Toledo, Ohio, and George Washington Ruble of Desoto, Ill., have just been united. Both served through the Civil war and then each started out to carve his fortune, losing the address of the other. Recently some misssent mail, intended for one brother, was forwarded to the other, and this led to the reunion which took place at the home of George in southern Illinois. Henry (left) was born in 1847 and his brother, George, in 1843.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS ENROLLMENT OF 175

One Change in Faculty
--Lillian Schroder Replaces Miss Miller

Total enrollment at the Antioch Township High school today had reached 175, according to Principal L. O. Bright, who was busy assigning students to their classes and getting routine of work underway for the year. Of this number, 53 are freshmen, 48 sophomores, 46 juniors and 26 seniors. Two have enrolled for a post graduate course: they are Louise Simons and Patricia Kennedy, who are taking commercial work.

The only change on the faculty from that of last year, is Miss Lillian Schroder, Lake Forest, who replaces Miss Leone Miller as English teacher and director of physical culture. Miss Miller tendered her resignation Saturday to accept a position in the Woman's college at Winona, Minn.

Reckless Driving Only Charge Preferred Against Wm. Ackerman

Antioch Man Not Charged With Drinking as Officers Intimated

William Ackerman, Antioch plumber, paid a fine of $17.00 on a charge of reckless driving in the Kenosha Municipal court Tuesday of last week after it was determined that Miss Patsy Miller, 19 year old South Kenosha girl, who was hurled from his machine the Sunday previous was not charged with intoxication, or drinking, as was reported to have been intimated by officers, the only charge being that of wild driving.

Miss Miller was riding with Ackerman on the Pleasant Prairie road and attempted to make a turn when he was alleged to have been going at too high a rate of speed. The car spun around the corner and tipped over on its side but righted itself again. The girl was hurled out when the door on her side suddenly opened. Ackerman claims he was not held at the county jail pending the outcome of the condition of the girl, but that after being taken there he was released on his own recognizance. Monday it was found that Miss Miller was not critically injured and Ackerman paid his fine for reckless driving, and also agreed to pay the hospital and doctors' fees.

erected in that city during the month of August. As stated by local Building Commissioner Richard Corrin, there were 2 houses and 9 garages erected in Antioch since the first of the year.

Edward Lynch left Saturday for a two week's visit in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and other eastern points. He was accompanied by the John Larkin family of Druce lake.

FOUR ARE INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE NEAR LAKE ZURICH

Wm. Cordes, Irving Strum,
Ralph Berg, Martin
Phillips, Victims

When their car jammed head on into another machine on Rand road, near the Log Cabin, between Lake Zurich and Wauconda Thursday night, William Cordes of Long Grove suffered a skull fracture, a broken collarbone, a crushed hand, broken right arm, injuries to the back, a badly lacerated face and neck; Irving Strum of Clinton Corners, right shoulder broken in four places, four broken ribs, a broken nose; Ralph Berg, 1024 North Boulevard, Oak Park, three ribs broken, a deep cut in the tongue, requiring eight stitches, chest injuries, four teeth knocked out, severe lacerations on the face, and deep cuts on the legs; and Martin Phillips of Long Grove, cut head and neck and injured thumb. Phillips was the only one of the injured party who did not have to remain at the hospital.

Steering Gear Faulty
The cause of the accident is said to be due to the fact that the steering gear suddenly went wrong. As the result of this, the uncontrolled machine crashed into an approaching car, driven by Ralph Berg, who was on his way to his summer home in Williams Bay, Wisconsin. The radiators of both cars were badly smashed on account of the impact.

The victims were extracted from the scene of the accident by passing motorists who rushed them to the office of Dr. J. A. Ross, who with the assistance of Dr. Herman Carr of Chicago, administered first aid. An ambulance was then called from Barrington and the injured ones were removed to the Elizabeth Condall Memorial hospital in Libertyville, where they are recovering.

RECOVER BODIES OF FIVE DROWNED IN LONG LAKE MON.

Tragedy Mars Outing
When Boat Capsizes;
Five Are Lost.

Recovery of the bodies of John Hoving, 5906 Archer avenue, Chicago, and Everett Valdman, 1444 South 48th avenue, Chicago, from the waters of Long Lake late Tuesday completed the task of Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle and deputies of locating the bodies of five victims of the drowning there on Labor day.

Bodies of the other three victims, Harry Wezeman, Cornelious Gelderloos, and George Ottenhoff were found shortly after one o'clock Tuesday.

The tragedy occurred when an over-loaded outboard motor boat in which they were riding overturned at three o'clock Monday afternoon.

Saved by Brother

Thomas Luzenga, 23, of 1337 South Austin Blvd., Chicago, the sixth boy in the small craft was rescued, as he clung to the side of the boat, by his brother, Peter, who was rowing in company with two girls, nearby.

The five victims sank to the bottom of the lake and it is believed became enmeshed in the mud and weeds. But two came to the surface of the water only to sink again and to their death before help could reach them. The craft was about 150 feet from the shore when it overturned. None of the victims were able to swim.

Recover One Body

Although several volunteer divers sought the bodies of the five and work of dragging was started about two hours after the tragedy under the direction of Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Edward Dunn and Garford Leaf, only one of the five bodies was recovered before midnight.

The body was that of G. Odenhoff. It was removed to the Strang undertaking rooms in Grayslake where it was held until it was removed to Hinsdale for burial.

Throng Sees Tragedy

The tragedy marred the day for several thousands of holiday pleasure seekers who were spending the day near the Frank Stanton resort near the north end of the lake.

The five boys accompanied by several other companions had gone to Long Lake earlier in the day to join a group of young women friends who had spent several days of a vacation at the lake.

16 Drowning in County

The Long Lake tragedy with the loss of five lives bring the total drowning in Lake county this season up to 16. Last year there were 21 fatalities.

LOCAL MAN IS SONG WRITER

"Where the Lotus Flowers Bloom," the latest song hit by N. O. Nelson, local author and composer, has made its appearance in Antioch and Chicago music stores. The song, a beautiful ballad of the lake country, is dedicated to Mr. Nelson's daughter, Ruth. Other publications by Mr. Nelson that have met with a wide sale are: "Who Hath the Love of a Mother," "Valley of Sunshine and Dreams," and "Chicago, Dear Old Chi." International copyrights have been secured for the publications.

Harry Willett left on Saturday for St. Louis, where he expects to take a course in aviation.

Gov. Emmerson Favors Completion of Illinois Deep Water Project

Governor Louis L. Emmerson pledged his support for the completion of the Illinois waterway project after a two-day inspection tour with United States Secretary of War Jas. A. Good, United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, and a number of other Illinois congressional representatives and industrial leaders. Members of the party were guests of the Illinois Manufacturers association on the trip down the waterway from Chicago to Peoria.

CAR LEAVES ROAD; OVERTURNS IN DITCH; BRISTOL GIRL DIES

Miss Eunice May Dixon
Succumbs From Punctured Lung

When the car in which she, her mother, and some friends were motor-ing to the Dells of Wisconsin left the road, jumped into the ditch, and turned over, Miss Eunice May Dixon, 19, of Bristol, was killed late Tuesday night a few miles south of Waukegan. According to medical authorities, her death was due to a punctured lung. The other members of the party were only slightly cut and bruised.

Happens at Curve

Miss Dixon, Mrs. Minnie Dixon, Mrs. Charles Gunter of Bristol, and Franklin Leferve, Mukwonago, Wis., started early Tuesday morning on their trip to the Dells, where they spent the day taking in the sights.

They left there late that afternoon, returning by way of Waukegan. Leferve was at the wheel and the fatality occurred as they approached a sharp curve in the gravel road over which they were traveling. As they drove into the loose gravel, the machine began to skid, which resulted in one wheel being thrown off the edge of the road. The force with which the car was then tipped caused it to land in the ditch upside down, pinning the occupants beneath. Miss Dixon, who sustained a punctured lung, was then rushed to a Waukegan hospital, where physicians announced that there was no hope for her. She died a half hour later. According to reports, the other members of the party were only bruised and cut, all of them remaining conscious.

Was College Student

Miss Dixon, who was born in Bristol, January 16, 1910, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dixon. She attended the Bristol graded school from which she was graduated. She then entered the Kenosha high school, which she finished in June, 1928. She would have been enrolled as a sophomore in Lawrence college this fall. It was there that she met Leferve. While on their way home from the Dells, Miss Dixon and he were already discussing their plans for the ensuing school year.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Dixon, who has been postmistress at Bristol for several years, and one sister, Miss Ruth Dixon, a nurse at the Kenosha hospital. Miss Dixon's father, Ernest Dixon, preceded her in death in September, 1926. The funeral was held from the Bristol Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by interment in the Paris Corners cemetery. The funeral was attended by more than 400 people.

LAKE RESORTS ARE HOSTS TO GREAT LABOR DAY CROWDS

Orderly Throng Enjoy
Season's Last Big Holiday.

The Lake county resort region was host to one of the largest Labor day crowds in history last Sunday and Monday, notwithstanding the fact that the entire county has been made about as dry as it can be made following the recent drive against beer and slot machines. There was comparatively little disorder and traffic was orderly with but a few minor accidents being reported.

Hotels and resorts were filled to overflow early Saturday, and the great holiday crowd were seeking accommodations in private homes until a late hour Saturday night.

Season's Last Big Holiday

While Labor day is reckoned as being the close of the resort season, owing to the fact that summer residents return at that time to their homes to allow their children to start school, the week-end crowds of tourists and picnickers are large if the days are sunny and the weather is mild. To many, autumn in the lake country is most beautiful.

Opening of the game season will also bring a number of hunters and fishermen to the county.

POLICE SEARCH FOR NEGRO WHO KILLED WAUKEGAN WOMAN

Oscar Tooles Is Sought For Murder of Mrs. Minnie Harris

Waukegan police yesterday were making a search for Oscar Tooles, a Lake Forest negro, who, when overcome by jealousy because his lover was to be married to another man, shot and killed Mrs. Minnie Harris, a colored woman, and the mother of five children, as she sat with several neighbors on her front porch at 670 South Clinton street, Waukegan, late Tuesday afternoon.

Begs For Mercy

The frightened woman, who was shot in the shoulder as she attempted to escape his threats, fell to the ground, after which the negro turned her over with his foot and put a bullet through her head as she begged of him not to kill her for the sake of her children. As Tooles started to flee, Frank Miller of 624 Eighth street tried to stop him, but was forced to give up when the former pointed a gun at him and ordered him out of the way.

Tries To Prevent Escape

The attempts of a watchman in a nearby factory to prevent the escape of the murderer were shut off when Tooles turned around and fired two shots at him. The negro then started to run and was last seen on Belvidere street.

The body of the dead woman was then removed to the Holland Undertaking parlors, where an autopsy was performed Wednesday. The inquest will be held later.

Struggles to Support Children

For eight years, Mrs. Harris has had a hard struggle to support herself and her five children. Her husband, who was accused of murder, disappeared at that time.

No Flag to Honor Zep; Stratton Has One Made

There wasn't a German flag in the Capital City. When Secretary of State William J. Stratton learned that the Graf Zeppelin was to fly over Springfield, he ordered the German emblem to fly beneath the Stars and Stripes on the state house. When none could be found in the city, Secretary Stratton ordered one made. Even then the Graf Zeppelin changed its course and flew north of Springfield.

"IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU"

If you want to live in the kind of a town like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long, hike. You'll only find what you left behind, For there's nothing that's really new; It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town. It isn't your town—it's you. Real towns are not made by men afraid Lest somebody else get ahead. When everyone works and nobody shirks Your town will be what you want to see, It isn't your town—it's you.

Edgar A. Guest.

What do you think of the above sentiments? Aren't they the truth? How many times have you heard people complaining about their "dead towns"? Doesn't it make your blood boil to hear some self-centered frivolous creature say, "Nothin' ever happens in this town"?

Did you ever stop to wonder just what was wrong with the town? If you did, you would find that it was an exact replica of millions of other towns. Naturally, any alive up-and-coming person enjoys the society of his fellow-beings, but must one be a "social butterfly" twenty-four hours of the day every day of the year? If a person cannot entertain himself for a few hours of the week, there must be something radically wrong with him.

What could do one more good than a few hours of honest thinking, of reading a good book, or playing fine music? The individual who depends upon others for entertainment is to be pitied. He is never satisfied and makes others about him miserable by his constant tales of discontent. He ought to be muzzled, but poor thing, he can't help his infirmity. His mind is twisted and gnarled by circumstance; perhaps he had never been taught to appreciate the beauties of our world. He doesn't know that he lives in an age of opportunity and that he COULD experience the pleasure that comes only with creative work and co-operation with one's fellows.

EVERY WAGE EARNER A CAPITALIST

The best guarantee for continued prosperity that we have is that millions of our citizens, in all walks of life, are buying securities in our great industries.

This is real public ownership, built on sound economic principles. It makes for better and more stable business and government. It is a major factor in advancing the financial and social status of the average person. The modern stock exchange, with its new standards of efficiency and integrity, has played an invaluable part in this movement. By its scientific examination of the stocks it lists, it has discouraged fraudulent or unsound issues. By audits made of member brokerage houses, it has fought the dishonest manipulator. The person who buys an interest in a great business, and receives dividends therefrom, is a part of the greatest social and economical revolution in world history—a revolution which is making every wage-earner a "capitalist."

AMAZING FACTS

When one visualizes a railroad grade crossing accident, it is to see a gigantic, speeding locomotive crash into a small automobile destroying the car and maiming the occupants. But this is not always the case.

Last year more than 25 per cent of all grade crossing accidents resulted from automobiles running into trains, either standing or in motion. The increase in such accidents was several times greater, when compared with 1927, than the increase in accidents caused by trains striking cars.

The public, in spite of intensive accident prevention efforts by the railroads and others, grows steadily more careless and indifferent to danger.

It is an economic truth that to eliminate all grade crossings would be a financial impossibility. The taxpayers and the railroads have spent tremendous sums reducing grade crossings, only to have more grade crossings demanded than ever before.

The railroads have spent millions installing safety devices to warn the public. Courts have now held that responsibility for seeing that a train is not coming at a railroad crossing, rests on the driver of the automobile. A little care on the part of motorists and all such accidents would be prevented, and thousands of lives saved each year.

KILLING THE GOOSE

Unless legislators use a little more common sense there will be a reaction against the gasoline tax, in the opinion of experts.

In a space of about 10 years we have seen this new form of "special" taxation come into existence and grow to the point where it is of serious economic and social significance. A short time ago two and three-cent taxes were considered high; now four to six-cent taxes are becoming common. In two states, counties are levying a gas tax and in three states are imposing such a tax.

A fair gas tax is a good thing when applied entirely to road building and maintenance. An exorbitant tax, or one which is applied, in whole or in part, for other purposes, is the rankest kind of unequal taxation.

The gas tax situation is causing millions of citizens to think about the general tax problem and the dangers which are inherent in class or special taxation. Unless the present trend of lawmakers to pile up special taxes on a helpless public and industries, is changed, it is safe to say that a wave of public disapproval must eventually manifest itself to protect individual and property rights.

LOOKING FOR EXCUSES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK

Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I have never understood just why it was that the man of whom the Scriptures tell us had such a hard time getting anyone to come to his dinner party. There must be some good reason hidden away when men turn down a good dinner.

They are said to be reached most directly through their stomachs.

Possibly the host's social standing was not all that might be desired, maybe the wives of some of those invited did not like the hostess. There was a reason, no doubt, and it was not the reason which in each case was alleged. They were simply wanting to dodge the engagement, they did not want to attend the man's party, and, as a result, they were not skilful enough to do so.

It is an interesting study up a logical to trump up an excuse, and, how easy it is one desires to find an excuse for doing what one does not wish to do, or for omitting to do what one wishes to get out of.

The Bentleys did not make a contribution to the church expenses this year, though they are quite able to do so, and they have been adherents of that particular organization since that particular organization was first started back in the early days. They have a good excuse, they think. Some action of the executive board was not to their liking. The choir does not please them, or the sewing society is not being run as they would have it done, so they are not going to have their good money spent in a way they do not approve. The real facts are that they are only looking for a hole to crawl through. It is a salve to their consciences; it is an explanation of why they are evading a known duty.

Jordan should have been to see me weeks ago about a matter which was left unsettled at his last visit.

"I have just been so busy, Dean," he explains to me when I have a head-on collision with him on the campus, "that I haven't been able to get around. It is just terrible how much a fellow has to do in college."

It just is; and no one realizes the fact more than I when I see Jordan out on the golf links, or sitting in a local confectionery, smoking and drinking a "coke," or walking hand in hand with a pretty girl down the broad walk. The truth is that men, young and old, are often too busy to do what they have no desire to do. It is the stock excuse for not going to church. Cooper was caught stealing from a locker in the gymnasium.

"Why did you do it?" I asked him.

"Well, some one stole my things two or three weeks ago," he explained, "and I thought it was up to me to get the stuff back some way."

He was simply looking for an excuse to justify in his own mind the act which he realized perfectly well was dishonest.

Tramp, tramp, tramp, there go the kids.

Be careful folks and don't let your chickens lay their eggs on the sidewalk these days.

It used to be, "Don't shoot, no liquor in this car." Now it is, "Don't shoot, you might break a bottle".

If you see a little bug creeping up and down the rug, Don't step on it; You'll be sorry if you do.

If you see a motor cop, And he orders you to stop, Don't step on it; You'll be sorry if you do.

September is here and with it comes a slight relief from the metropolitan din by which Antioch is characterized during the summer months.

The Antioch News office is the most widely known "shortage of bureaus around here," according to information day staff. Crandall Lee There is not a day goes by but that at least a dozen people are relieved from a state of curiosity. Thursday, a man came in and wanted to know the population of Marysville, Kansas. "It is 3,048," he was told.

There are 93 shopping days left before Xmas.

Some of Antioch's epic and span housekeepers have already begun to take advantage of the usual semi-annual opportunity to take account of stock. Poor men, they don't know whether their cigarette lighters are in the cupboard, on the desk, in the attic, or in the bath tub.

HintsFood Comes First;
Is Important
Industry

The national food bill of the United States was recently estimated at $23,000,000,000. The food industry as a whole thus exceeds by many billions the textile, steel and automotive industries which our financial manuals list as our largest.

All this was pointed out by Colby M. Chester, Jr., president of the Postum Company, in a recent speech before the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and he went on to discuss the effect food had exerted on the world's history.

"Because of it," he said, "armies have surrendered and cities have been made captive. International boundaries have continually been altered and nations made subject peoples. It was the seed on which red revolution thrived in France and Russia. It is safe to say it forced Lee's surrender at Appomattox, and there is every reason to believe that the World War would not have ended in 1918 if the Central Powers had been well nourished and well fed."

In War and Peace
"China still continues to be a backward nation because dread famine wipes out millions of its people periodically. Food has had its place equally on the constructive side. Joseph averted famine in ancient Egypt by hoarding a surplus in the productive years, making him most favored of the King. Food brought peace and order to the world after the Great War, and Belgium, Poland and Southern Europe threatened with chaos were saved from anarchy and ruined by food."

Have you ever stopped to think that the population of this great country consumes 260,000,000 meals every day in the year? So important is this fact economically that dietary studies of the distribution of expenditure for food have been made by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, the United States Department of Agriculture and the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

Where Your Money Goes
From these studies it can be estimated that of the money devoted to the purchase of food the average American family spends from 30 to 40 per cent for meats and fish (including poultry and shell fish when used), about 5 or 6 per cent for eggs, about 7 to 10 per cent for butter and other fats, from 10 to 20 per cent for bread and other cereal and bakery products, 3 to 7 per cent for sugar and other sweets, 7 to 10 per cent for vegetables, 2 to 8 per cent for fruit, and less than 2 per cent for cheese and nuts.

An amazing fact is that, at the most moderate estimate, more than 50 per cent of the foods enumerated in this combined budget may be obtained in cans. These foods include meat and fish, milk, butter, some cereal and bakery products, many sweets, practically the whole range of vegetables and fruits and many varieties of cheese and nuts. Who shall say that the commercial canner who makes available in safe, sanitary and palatable form and at moderate prices more than 50 per cent of this kind of foods the public eats is not a modern Joseph of a most practical kind?

Far From Saturation Point
The number of meals consumed in this country daily multiplied by the number of days in the year makes the astonishing total of 131,400,000,000 meals. Yet the commercial canners of the United States are now putting up only about 9,000,000,000 cans of processed foods a year, or only one can for every 14.6 meals, or sufficient meals for nearly five days. If you will call on your own experience at home and in restaurants, you will realize that you eat more than one can of food every six days. The answer to this paradox is partly home canning, and partly the fact that there are still many people in this country who are not consuming their possible proportion of canned foods.

The men in the canning industry are conservative, but they continue to build year after year huge plants for making cans and big new canneries. They are saying nothing and sawing wood, but it is obvious from the above figures that the industry can and will continue to grow.

The food products which are canned in any great quantities now number approximately 240, but new foods, combinations and ready prepared dishes are constantly being added to this total, and each one holds the possibility of growing into a respectable sized industry of its own.

Sally Ann's

at Her Home

Sally Ann was very much afraid of bees and when she heard a "buzz-buzz" coming nearer and nearer to her head, she always wanted to hit at them or else run away into the house. Of course papa explained to her that the bees could hurt her but that they didn't want to. When Sally Ann finally learned that the bees were very busy and didn't want to be interfered with, she and the bees became great friends. Sally Ann's papa kept bees, you know, but they usually had gone to work when Sally Ann got up in the morning. Papa always opened the hives and showed his little girls all about them. One time a bee did fly straight into her face though and stung her right on the end of her nose. Sally Ann loved to watch her daddy scrape the honey from in front of the hives.

One day the little rascal did something which her papa didn't like at all. What do you suppose it was? Well she swiped some honey off from the table and took it out in front of a hive. Then the bees came out to get it and the bees from another hive came to get it and the bees from the other hive went inside to get more and then other bees did the same thing and by and by they were all stealing and fighting.

"But daddy," exclaimed Sally Ann, "I only did it to help them! I thought it would be easier for them!"

"Yes, said her father," so it was. But I'll tell you something worth while to remember. It isn't a good thing for bees or for girls to have things too easy. They should have work as well as play."

What about it, little folks?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 25.

The Golden Text was, "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Romans 12:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure" (Philippians 2:5, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Having no other gods, turning to no other but the one perfect Mind to guide him, man is the likeness of God, pure and eternal, having that Mind which was also in Christ" (p. 487).

Mustard Pickles

1 gallon vinegar
1 cup sugar
1 cup salt
1 cup ground mustard
Cucumbers
Mix and pour over the cucumbers cold. Let stand 2 weeks before using. Delicious and easy to make.

Cabbage Relish

Good to serve instead of pickles or salad with meat:
1 small head cabbage
1 onion
1 tomato
1 green pepper
Chop and mix thoroughly with this dressing:
Oil, 3 parts
Lemon, 1 part
Vinegar, 1 part
Salt, 1 part
Pepper

Pickley Peaches

3 pounds sugar
1 pint elder vinegar
When the syrup is boiled a little thick, drop in the peaches, when heated through, put in jars and put a few cloves on top of each jar and seal.

Watermelon Pickles

Watermelon, peaches, pears or cantaloupes. Pare and weigh the fruit, to each 7 pounds of fruit allow 3 pounds of sugar and 1 pint of vinegar.

1 teaspoon ground cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon allspice
Mix and tie in cloth bags. Throw into boiling vinegar and sugar. Steam fruit and put into vinegar and sugar, fill jars and pour vinegar over fruit. Brown sugar makes a delightful change in flavor when making watermelon pickles.

New England Tomato Soy

Peel and chop a peck of ripe tomatoes, until quite fine. Cook in preserving kettle with 1/2 teaspoon of each whole cloves and whole spice, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon black pepper, 3 red peppers, 5 onions, chopped. Boil for one hour, then add 1 quart vinegar. When cool bottle and seal. Will keep all winter or even longer if desired.

Canadian Spiced Grapes

Pulp the grapes; put on the stove and scald. Rub through sieve, add skins. To 8 pounds grapes add 4 pounds brown sugar, a little pepper, cloves and cinnamon to taste. Add 1 quart vinegar and cook until skins are quite tender.

Rhubarb Jam

To 6 pounds of rhubarb add 6 pounds of sugar and 6 large lemons. Cut the rhubarb in small pieces. Slice the lemons very thin. Put the fruit in a large bowl and cover with sugar, letting it stand for twenty-four hours. Boil for about three-quarters of an hour. Do not stir more than is necessary, as its great beauty is in its not being all broken up. Put in glasses and cover with paraffin.

Spiced Plums

5 parts plums
4 parts sugar
1 part vinegar
1 1/2 tablespoons ground cinnamon.
When the syrup is boiled a little thick, drop in the plums, when heated through, put in jars and seal. If possible get the blue plums that are in the market late in the fall. Cut them in two, removing pits, but not the skins.

He went to see "Paramount" pictures.
He smoked a "Camel" cigarette after the show.
He rode home in a "Yellow Cab."
He made an advance appointment on the "Bell" phone.
He took a "Bayer" aspirin for his headache.

KONJOLA WINS AFTER ALL ELSE TRIED FAILED

Famous Medicine Came To Rescue and Relieve Three Ailments After Fruitless Search For Betterment

MRS. H. BOMBARD

"I suffered from nervousness, chronic constipation and neuritis pains", said Mrs. H. Bombard, 1010 N. Michigan avenue, Chicago. "Constipation kept my organs in a sluggish and torpid condition. The least unexpected noise made me jump with fright. I was worried, feeling that my case was hopeless."

"Konjola was recommended to me and I decided to see what it would do. Konjola went right to work; I could almost feel it. My system was cleansed and strengthened; bowels were regulated and nerves quieted and soothed. In a short time the neuritis pains were eliminated entirely. Konjola restored me to health and I indorse it to all who suffer as I did."

Konjola is sold in Antioch at S. H. Reeves' drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

He has resided in Texas for more than 40 years and felt that good fellowship and hospitality existed only in the south, but since his long stay in Antioch he has changed his opinion. Were it not for the cold winters here, he says he couldn't select for a home a more ideal, hospitable and up and doing town than Antioch. His only regret is that he couldn't stay longer.

ILLINOIS AUTO CLUB PLANS TO EQUIP EVERY SAFETY PATROL BOY

Junior Safety Patrol Boys Will Be Supplied With Uniforms

Twenty-five thousand Junior Safety Patrol boys, guardians of safety at Illinois schools will rejoice in the announcement made by S. Mayer, president of the Automobile club of Illinois, whose plan covers one of the largest consignments of uniform equipment for patrol boys ever placed.

A rain coat, rain hat, uniform cap, Sam Browne belt and badge for every "patrol boy" in Illinois is the objective of officials of the club. According to the plan, no boy will be required to stand on duty in inclement weather without proper protection from the elements.

A letter was sent to all principals throughout the state today advising them of the campaign to clothe the boys and asking them to co-operate in perfecting the necessary contact. "These boys mean more to us than anything else," declared Mr. Mayer, father of the plan. Our efforts to reward them through our new arrangement is only a slight recompense in return for unselfish service and devotion for a humanitarian cause.

"Regardless of weather, you will always find the patrol boy alert to his duties at his post with never a thought of danger to himself. Countless accidents have been averted through sheer foresightedness of the boys and the toll of injured or killed among children and adults reduced to a minimum through the thoroughness of the patrol boy", commended the Automobile club head.

These boys have heretofore carried the responsibility of furnishing themselves with weather-protecting garments, or, as in a few instances, neighboring civic organizations cognizant of the duties imposed upon these youthful guardians of life have voluntarily outfitted a patrol unit against the inclemency of the weather.

This is the first time that any organization has evolved a campaign that unites the entire junior safety patrol system through a co-ordinated idea which contemplates the co-operation of the various civic agencies, women's clubs, and all other organizations having the welfare of the junior safety patrol at heart.

Principals of the various schools, civic organizations, Parent-Teachers associations and fraternal societies are asked to get in touch with the Bureau of Safety of the Automobile Club of Illinois, 5600 Sheridan Road, Chicago, which bureau will forthwith supply the desired information and details of the plan.

Bee Fear

There is one burglar, in the animal world, that gets away with it. When a foreign visitor enters a bee hive, the bees promptly capture him and seal him up. But when the huge death's head moth enters the hive, he makes a squeaking noise which resembles the voice of the queen. This frightens the other bees and they let him alone.

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN WHO THINK CLEARLY THE GREATEST DEMAND OF AMERICAN BUSINESS

Bankers Association President Gives the Five Essentials of Sound Thinking in Business—Greater Opportunity Than Ever Before for Young People With Educational Training and Power to Analyze Problems.

By CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD
President American Bankers Association

ONLY half a century ago Michael Pupin, a shepherd boy, guarded his flocks by night among the fields of Serbia. Thieves often lurked in the bordering cornfields awaiting an opportunity to make off with a part of the herd. Serbian boys were taught a method of signalling one another for warning and help. Each carried a knife with a long wooden handle which he would thrust deep into the ground and in case cattle thieves approached he would strike the wooden handle. The sound would be transmitted through the ground to other boys some distance away who could hear and interpret the message.

CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD

"Why is it," Pupin asked his mother, "that we can signal this way? Why is it the sound can be heard through the ground, but not through the air? Why is it the signals can be heard in the pasture land so much better than in the plowed fields?" The boy's mother could not answer his questions, nor could the village teacher. However, having an eager mind and great determination, the boy decided to go to America, where he might win an education and find out the answers to these and other perplexing questions. Hundreds of other boys under the same circumstances and with the same set of conditions merely accepted these things without once questioning them just because they had always done them that way.

The Land of Education and Success

So a penniless immigrant boy from Serbia at the age of fifteen landed in New York in 1874 and, years later, having worked his way through Columbia University, concentrated the wonder and simplicity of his mind upon the problem of sound, which had puzzled him as a shepherd boy. The results of his thinking—what he has accomplished for the long distance telephone and for radio communication by his inventions—are known the world over. "If during the past twenty-two years this company had been compelled to do without one invention of Michael Pupin," an official of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company once said, "and yet give the same service it is giving today it would have had to spend at least $100,000,000 more than it has expended."

These inventions, in which millions of dollars of capital have been invested, were the result of the thinking of a mere country lad who had the simplicity to wonder, the determination to know and the power to apply what he learned.

Stimulating the imagination and thinking is the greatest purpose of education. What American business needs more than anything else is young men and women to think—individuals who are not mentally anchored to tradition, who do not merely appropriate other people's ideas, but who are hard, purposeful thinkers, independent and unprejudiced, with the ability to concentrate and strike straight for the heart of a problem.

Business Needs Folk Who Think

America has astounded the world by its readiness in casting aside traditional viewpoints, disregarding traditional difficulties and pioneering new shortcut formulas in the realm of business. Business is undergoing epochal changes.

Business problems are crowding in upon us so rapidly that the executive knows not where to look for adequate help or relief. With the enormous increase in size and intricacy of business affairs the problems have become so complicated and the mass of information necessary to their solution so great that the "days are not long enough." The demand for managerial and executive ability is rushing ahead—the opportunity for young men and women who have the professional training and who develop genuine thinking power is greater than ever.

All business feels the same crying need for the men who see clearly and think conclusively. Wherever we look—manufacturing, wholesaling, retailing, banking, financing—new forces are at work. Vast movements are under way and executives are seeking light upon perplexing problems daily.

Let us consider briefly the five essentials of a sound thinker. If I were looking for a young man of exceptional promise I should hope, first, to find in him the simplicity to wonder. Every great advancement in business has been made by men who dared to wonder, who had the courage to inquire into present procedure and who had the audacity to ask whether something that had been done a certain way for a long time might not be wrong. Although the history of America's progress from its very discovery to the present time has shown the value of an inquiring mind, there is still an inevitable tendency in most men to accept in a docile manner the opinions, methods, supposed facts, procedures and processes of the past. With due reverence to the effort, the spirit, the accomplishments of the past, let us make it our rule that everything be looked at with the clear questioning mind of the scientist.

Business Requires an Open Mind

Second, among the essentials for sound thinking I would write down an open mind. We have mentioned freeing our minds from the influence of tradition. Let us think also without prejudice of personal feelings, desires or consequence. Let us seek only the truth. Mere surface reasoning must be discounted. Old "can't's" and "don't's" must be thrown into the discard. A man who has an open mind will do a great many things because he doesn't know they can't be done.

The third essential to sound thinking is knowledge—a thorough, comprehensive understanding of all the factors involved in a problem. It has been said that most problems answer themselves when the facts have been gathered. A well known student and teacher of business describes the method of attacking a problem as tearing it down, reassembling the problem, and drawing the conclusion. There can be nothing but guess work or intuition unless the unknown quantities are discovered.

As a fourth essential sound thinking requires the capacity to generalize. How often we see men sweating and confused before a mass of details which they were utterly unable to classify and crystallize. We have the problem of sorting out the relevant, attaining a perspective and reaching a conclusion that can be defended against any attack. To certain minds this procedure comes naturally; to others training in the solution of complicated problems points the way out.

The Time for Action

Fifth among the essentials of sound thinking is the power to apply. A few individuals have minds that travel at random or in circles. Some have minds that even refuse to budge. But there are still others who naturally or through training have minds that can be directed straight through to the practical application of their thoughts. They refuse to compromise or to be thwarted in purpose before definite application of their ideas has been achieved.

It is possible, I believe, for young people to train themselves to an inquisitive attitude, an open mind and the ability to classify and interpret material step by step from the beginning of a problem to its final solution and application. Here, then, is the thought I would leave—the paramount need of business is sound thinking. Some may think I have overstated the case, have set too high a standard. They may feel that they are merely cogs in a machine. That, too, is a part of the problem. The only way to solve that is to find time and place in the day's work for thinking.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKING MOVEMENT REACHES IMPRESSIVE PROPORTIONS

Almost 14,000 of America's schools now have school savings banking plans in operation, and about four million pupils are learning systematic savings through this type of thrift, with deposits in excess of $26,000,000, recent reports of the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division show. The schools included in the reports are attended by 4,609,825 pupils, of whom 3,980,237 are participants in the school savings banking plans as depositors. During the year these pupils received interest in the amount of $947,610 on their deposits.

The reports gathered by the association also show that there are 38 cities in the United States in which a full 100 per cent of the grammar school enrollment is participating in school savings banking. The figures covering high schools show that in 47 cities 100 per cent of the attendance in this class are school savers.

BANKING FINDS THE WAY TO SAFER ERA

By FRANK W. SIMMONDS,
American Bankers Association

In considering the banking situation throughout the country, the fact should be kept in mind that while one bank in ten failed during the past eight years, it is far more important that nine banks out of ten, operating in the same general field, serving the same communities and meeting almost identically the same problems, weathered the economic storm of readjustment successfully. This achievement cannot be ascribed to any element of luck, but rather to consistent adherence to sound banking principles and profitable practices. Through worthy and efficient management they met the issues and problems confronting them, squarely and successfully.

Banking is regarded as the keystone of our entire business structure, hence bank failures are rightly regarded as intolerable public calamities that must absolutely be prevented. The three major objectives of all inter-bank organizations, whether local, county, district, state or national, are to make banking safer for all concerned and, through increased efficiency in bank management and supervision, to lessen or eliminate all forms of losses so that greater rewards may accrue to banking and better service to the public. There is definite evidence throughout the country of a strong and growing spirit of cooperation among bankers and banking organizations, which is resulting more and more in strengthening the work of all.

Clearinghouse associations among banks in city, county or district groups undoubtedly constitute the chief line of defense against bad banking practices. They have demonstrated that they are the principal factor in bringing about reformation in banking regulations, improvements in banking methods and the observance of sound banking principles. For many years the primary purpose of a clearinghouse association was the clearance of checks, but today it is the clearance of banking ideas and the solution of banking problems. Clearinghouses supply the local machinery essential for setting up and putting in practice necessary standards and uniformities. There are now 435 clearinghouse associations in cities, towns, counties and groups of counties in the United States.

Men today are more intelligently group-minded than ever before. Banking is combining the best elements of competition with sound group action. By virtue of this combination, individual thought has much wider possibilities of expression. In general, group action has not stifled but has stimulated individual thinking and initiative. Better inter-bank organization and relationships afforded by clearinghouses would have undoubtedly saved many institutions that have suffered failure in the past. The clearinghouse activities of the American Bankers Association are conducted for the purpose of encouraging ever widening cooperation along fundamental principles and practices among banks through clearinghouse associations. Bankers in every city, county or district can, through the agency of a clearinghouse, promote better, safer and more profitable banking and also serve their communities better.

There never was a time when successful bankers were so alert to the value of team work for putting the entire banking structure in prime condition. Sound bank management is the order of the day. Constructive cooperation is more than a sentiment, it is an economic necessity, a matter of enlightened self-interest, and successful bankers more and more are utilizing the agency of constructive group action in developing and establishing necessary standards and uniformities in banking practices. Each year banking is becoming more of a science and attaining higher professional standards.

THE BANK'S PART IN THE FARM PROBLEM

By H. LANE YOUNG

Member American Bankers Association
Agricultural Commission

ONE of the most discussed and least understood questions regarding the farmer's problems is the part the bank has played, or is to play, in financing the farmer. The basis of co-operation between the two, however, is a very simple one.

H. Lane Young

Both sides are subject to criticism for the condition that exists today. The major share of the blame rests on those banks that have failed through disregarding fundamental principles in loaning other people's money, that have encouraged the farmer to expect bank loans without first putting his business on the earning basis which would justify a bank to lend him money.

One of the underlying reasons for the failure of so many country banks has been the existence of too many banks. With the limited business of the community divided among too many banks it was impossible for them to make enough money to justify the employment of officers with the proper ability to manage the bank successfully. Then the scramble for business was so hard that good judgment and foresight were forgotten in granting loans, with the resultant failure of the weaker institutions.

In the future, banks are not going to loan the money of their depositors without the kind of security that can be immediately realized upon in case the loan is not paid, or unless the applicant presents a sound and successful record of business operation—whether that business be manufacturing, merchandising, or farming.

Farming-Banking Interdependent

This is a perfectly obvious attitude, because country banking cannot be successfully and profitably carried on unless farming is successfully and profitably operated—the two businesses are dependent upon each other. There is no longer any question that the time has arrived for these interdependent businesses to reach a common ground of understanding of the requirements that both must meet for their mutual welfare.

There is no doubt but what the future prosperity of the farmer and the basis of cooperation between banker and farmer is the intelligent diversification of crops. It is necessary, however, to have the right conception of diversification.

The mistake that many farmers have made in attempting to diversify has been to invest too much money, time and land in a new and untried crop—sometimes a hazardous crop, or one for which no immediate market has been developed, resulting in a loss of the initial effort and discouragement of future efforts on a more conservative basis.

Disregarding the primary and essential principle of farming—namely, increasing earnings by decreasing the cost of production through the practice of building up soil by crop rotation and intensive cultivation, is responsible for a large share of the farmers' trouble today.

Seamless Fashioned-Foot Leg-Conforming Hose in Sun Tan Shades, and Pencil Roll Ankle Socks Popular Vogue

Smart America favors the bare-leg idea but frowns on the bare-leg fact. The clever new "illusion" hosiery is Dame Fashion's answer to the bare-leg question.

Fashioned-foot, seamless hose in sun-tan shades, especially when worn with Pencil-Roll Ankle Socks, give perfectly the sun-tanned bare-leg effect. So finely is this "illusion" hose woven, so gossamer is its sheerness, so natural its shades that it defies detection from actual bare legs. A new scientific knitting process gives these Mode-modeled seamless hose a fashioned shape that makes them cling to the contours of the leg like a second skin. Sun tan shades to match the complexion of blonde or brunette make the illusion complete. Pencil-Roll Ankle Socks are the perfect complement to the "illusion" hose. These silk socks with a snug, trim rolled top, in a variety of color harmonies, when worn over the "illusion" hose makes the bare-leg effect doubly certain. Together, hose and socks, give the smart woman an opportunity to keep up with the bare-leg vogue without the bare-leg discomfort

WAUCONDA BOY FALLS FROM HORSE

Falling from a galloping horse was cause for the serious injury of John Papas, 12 year old Wauconda boy, Friday afternoon in Williams Park near his home.

As stated by Dr. J. A. Ross at Wauconda, the child landed on the pavement on his head, his left arm buckled under him. Circumstantial evidence indicated that his arm had been fractured, the physician rushed him to the Elizabeth Condell hospital in Libertyville, where x-rays had revealed the fact that the boy suffered a concussion of the brain.

The victim was removed to his Wauconda home Saturday morning, where he is slowly recovering. Although he regained consciousness shortly after he was taken to the hospital, he remained delirious for some time.

As An Agriculturalist Sees Farm Board's Job

The new Agricultural Marketing Act approaches farm relief from a materially different point of view from that of former bills before Congress in recent years, says Dean H. L. Russell of Wisconsin University College of Agriculture in the American Bankers Association Journal.

"It contains a new idea, fraught with the greatest possibilities—the organization of a Federal Farm Board," he says. "It has been possible for farm cooperatives to borrow from Federal-aided institutions before, and at a materially lower rate than city business men had to pay for working capital, but this is the first set-up made by the government in which a commission has been carefully chosen to give undivided attention to an effort to solve the problems of a farm group."

"It is hard to conceive of a higher degree of responsibility than must be assumed by this commission. No board ever created by congressional action has been clothed with as wide plenary powers. It is authorized not only to advise but to execute, to plan and put its plans into effective action, to buy and hold, to dump, to dip into the Federal treasury to accomplish its ends with what would be almost unlimited resources to any private commercial concern. The board's only job is to succeed, and no governmental agency even during the war time emergency had a wider latitude."

"Many will think the farm relief program will be universally applicable to the individual land owner or operator. Such procedure is far from the case. Aid is to be extended through cooperative organizations by making it possible for such groups to obtain cash advances to hold crops so as to permit of more orderly marketing."

"While the primary relation is with cooperatives, the individual or unorganized farmer will also profit by the activities of his organized fellows. If a stabilized program of merchandising is able to eliminate the surpluses that exert such depressing influence on prices the general price relation should be improved. If this occurs the individual farmer should also benefit."

"It is here the government is proposing a novel attempt in economics. Through stabilization corporations for each commodity it is proposed to make possible the handling of the surplus so as to lessen its disturbing influence on prices. With non-perishable products such a program is, of course, conceivably possible, but one wonders what would happen if a stabilization corporation had to handle a perishable crop in great quantities. "Is it going to be possible for a stabilization corporation to stabilize? It would be one thing if it had merely to stabilize the American situation, but often that situation is complicated with world conditions. Perhaps the very fact that such a stabilization corporation is in position to function may have a steady effect on the market."

"Markets respond to psychological stimuli as do individuals. The very fact that the government has now definitely stepped into the breach with all of its resources available to make the new plan work will exert undoubtedly a strong stabilizing effect."

"It would be presumptuous to forecast what the ultimate effect of the new act will be. It can, however, be definitely stated that in the present plan much of the philosophy that had been so drastically criticized as economically unsound has been eliminated. The existing plan is worth trying. It will undoubtedly cost the Federal treasury no inconsiderable amounts of money, but if it produces the hoped-for result it will have been well worth while."

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, the right weight and kind of paper, the color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

CHICAGOANS TO HAVE PLENTY OF CAR SPACE SOON

Illinois, Because of Excellent State-wide Highway System, Turns Attention to Congestion

By E. E. Duffy

What the gas tax can do will be fully demonstrated in the near future in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A criticism of the gas tax has been that residents of large cities, where the most motoring is done, contribute the largest portion to state highway income, and that in return the cities receive little more than do remote rural communities.

Although that criticism is frequently a misconception, Illinois has recognized the claims of the city motorist to the extent that a trifle less than $22,000,000 of the state gas tax income for the next two years will be spent on highways in the immediate vicinity of Chicago.

This will mean that traffic-bound

St. Theresa hospital in Waukegan, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers and Mrs. J. F. Pickering, all of Chicago, were guests of their sister, Mrs. G. P. Manzer, for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rentner attended a theatre party in Waukegan last week Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Miller entertained several guests from the city over Labor day.

Miss Mabel Scott of Plymouth, Wisconsin, was a guest of the C. B. Hamlin family Sunday night. She went on to Elmhurst Monday where she will teach this year.

Chicago, wherein there is very little of this thing called motoring comfort, will be freed of costly irritating traffic congestion.

In addition to the extensive state program, Cook county, in which Chicago is located, will receive no less than $3,000,000 as its share of the annual apportionment to counties. This sum is to be devoted to the improvement of main highways.

Illinois is to win a position to lend this assistance, for the simple reason that the state highway system is perhaps nearer perfection than that of any other state. State bond issue funds, totalling $160,000,000 have been wisely applied and now Illinois has nearly 8,000 miles of concrete rural roads in service.

Chicago is typical of all the motor-ridden cities of the land. With congestion as bad there as any place, the success that Chicago will have, through one of the great highway programs the world has known, may cause the motorist to feel that after all there is a solution to the traffic problem.

MCDOWELL AND MILLER TO MEET IN WINDUP BOUT

Druba, O'Hannion, and Jokinen Also on Card Friday Night

Palace boxing fans ought to get an eye-ful of fast action tomorrow night when Red McDowell, 160 pound Waukegan amateur, and Bob Miller, Barry's gym, clash in the windup event of an all star boxing card of seven bouts.

A bout of no less class is also promised in the Felix Druba and Druba and Irving Miller affair billed as the semi-windup attraction. These boys fight in the 160 pound class, and if either lands effectively a kayo would be no surprise.

Winner to Fight Champ
Another bout of unusual interest, because of the fact that the winner is to meet Joey Wolf, A. A. U. champion is to be staged between Oscar O'Hannion and Paul Dazzo, in the 110 pound class. Both lads will be in there to win in order to get a crack at the amateur crown that now adorns the classic brow of Joey. And that's not all—Ernie Jokinen, popular Waukegan 160 pounder, will trade punches with Harry Pederson, Barry's gym, in the opener of the evening. Then Don Conn and Morrie Scheer, another protege of Barry's gym, will mix in bout number 2.

In the third fight fans will see Red Schneider and Leo Donnelly of Davenport, Iowa, in a bout that is sure to be good, while John Taylor, Waukegan, and Larry Amedee, Barry's gym, will muss each other in the bout billed as fourth on the card.

CHANNEL LAKE CLUB GIVES DANCE FOR MANY NEW MEMBERS

Treasure Hunt Also on Program of Happy Days at Club

Never in the history of the Channel Lake Country club was a more enjoyable dance held than the one arranged by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Club on last Saturday night.

The one important feature which makes a successful dance is the music, and the fact that at 12:30 a. m., when the orchestra had finished its last number, not one couple had left the hall, was the most convincing argument that the dance had been a success. In fact, the guests were having such a wonderful time, they sat around in groups and visited, and finally had to be told to go home.

The chairman for the evening, Mrs. J. H. Sandell, with her committee which included Mrs. Max Mauer, Mrs. Herbert Vos, and Mrs. W. Ward, were the genial hostesses, and they were most ably assisted by the new officers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Gnaedinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Paulson, who took great pains to greet the new members as well as the old, and endeavored to make them feel as cordially welcome as the old friends.

A happy, genial spirit was evident everywhere, and all went home with the hope that the occasion would be repeated many times next year.

The decorations of the hall were taken care of by several members of the Junior group, including Isabelle Cooper, Brooke Phillips, Enid Taylor, and Mildred Kresse, and the place represented a bower of Japanese lanterns, flowers, and ferns.

Among the guests, besides those already mentioned were Messrs. and Mesdames Tankersley, Parker, Murphy, Phillips, Pfleger, Johnson, Mills, Dorrance, Wilson, Bunge, Bell, Cooper, Kresse, Gallauer, Burg, Berry, Erdman, Heg, H. Vos, with a party of twelve, Mesdames Laflin, Arms, Warriner, Bayrd, Jordan, and in the Junior group, Maurice Loven, Bill Volk, Douglas Wallace, Charles Norman Tankersley, David Gifford, Pfleger, George Laflin, Frank Luther, Ned Mansure, Drury Hollenbeck, Max Mauermann, and several young lady guests.

Another social event of the Club was the third annual Treasure Hunt which always takes place the Sunday evening before Labor Day. Over fifty young people participated in the hunt, and the prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Heg and Mrs. W. W. Ward. The second prize was awarded to the car driven by David Gifford, and with him were Mr. Hall, Otto Loven, Clyde Northrup, and Bill Volk. Sandwiches and coffee were served to about seventy people at the close of the "Hunt", and as usual, it was a very jolly occasion.

On Monday, Labor Day, was held the annual mixed two-ball foursome. Many members participated in this event, and the low scores were made by Mrs. Wm. Cooper and Eddie Mauermann.

Another golf event which took place on Sunday, August 25, was on the driving contest, sponsored by the Chicago Evening Post. The longest drive was made by Eddie Mauermann, with Otto Loven in second place.

Mrs. Amelia Herman Succumbs To Stroke

Never fully recovering from the attack of paralysis with which she was stricken on May 10, Mrs. Amelia Selter Herman died at her home on North Main street Monday.

The deceased, who was born in Beckendorf, Magdaburg, Germany, on April 14, 1865, came to America with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Selter, at the age of 7 years. Their first home was established at Grass lake, where Mrs. Herman resided until her marriage, at which time she and her husband went to North Dakota. They remained there for about 18 years after which they moved to Lawton on account of their son's health. It was in 1919 that Mrs. Herman and her husband returned to this city.

Those who survive her are two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Lux and Mrs. Edward Lux and one brother, Robert Selter. Her husband, William Herman, preceded her in death 4 years ago and their only child died 10 years ago.

The funeral was held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the home. Mrs. Lewis was the reader. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Monkey Business Irks Local Volunteer Firemen

A volunteer fire company has lot to contend with, and the public whom they serve does not know the half of it according to a member of the local department, who has done considerably more than his share to bring the organization up to its present high efficiency.

"One of the reasons fire companies have young men on their forces is to meet the trying conditions of nerve strain, strength, and the opposing public element that always carries the idea of letting the other fellow do the worrying", he said. "That was fairly well illustrated last Sunday afternoon when a number of needless calls were sent in from the same neighborhood. And, would it surprise you to know that a Chicago fireman was mixed up in the excitement of trying to tell Antioch firemen what they should do, under threat of calling the Waukegan department?"

"Inquiry at the Central Station, Waukegan, revealed that on Sunday night they had received a telephone call from the east side of Loon lake, calling for firemen and stating that the Antioch department refused to make the run and that the whole neighborhood was in danger. A condition of this kind, if kept in practice, will narrow down to the point where the local department will refuse to answer calls in the country."

The department urges cottage owners to burn the grass around buildings before leaving for the city. This is a protective measure that may save thousands of dollars in property damage.

FARMERS' PICNIC TO BE HELD AT LAKE ZURICH SEPTEMBER 7

Plans have practically been completed for the first annual picnic of the Pure Milk association to be held Saturday, September 7, at Renard Park, Lake Zurich. It was announced by W. I. Woodin of Vernon Township, who is in active charge of the outing event.

According to present indications over 10,000 farmers, business men and children will attend. Mr. Woodin, who for many years was president of the old Lake County Fair association, is being assisted by a group of leading Lake county dairymen in formulating the plans for the picnic which promises to be an even bigger event than the Farmers' picnic which is held annually at Diamond Lake.

Ball games, horseshoe pitching contests, women's races and water contests are a few of the events which are listed on the program. The day promises to be chuck full of excitement beginning at 10:00 a. m., and continuing to late at night. The closing feature of the day will be dancing.

Through the farm bureaus, invitations have been extended to farmers in McHenry and Boone counties to attend.

A prominent speaker active in dairy work and widely known in farm circles will feature the afternoon program. Numerous county officials have also been invited to attend and take part in the program if they desire.
